N. REGIONAL OVERVIEW

a) Bali

Bali is an island and province of Indonesia, located to the east of Java. Renowned for its rich cultural heritage, stunning natural landscapes, and vibrant arts scene, Bali is one of the world's most popular tourist destinations. The island is home to numerous temples, traditional villages, and beaches that attract millions of visitors each year.

Recognized as the “Island of the Gods,” Bali balances tradition and modernity, offering a unique blend of spirituality, art, and hospitality. The province also serves as a hub for international conferences and cultural exchanges, reflecting Indonesia's commitment to sustainable tourism and cultural preservation.

b) Language

Bahasa Indonesia is the national language, and English is commonly used in Bali.

c) Climate

The average temperature in Bali during October is around 28°C, with daytime temperatures typically reaching around 31°C and nighttime temperatures dropping to around 24°C. October marks the transition from the dry season to the rainy season, with the likelihood of rainfall gradually increasing throughout the month. Visitors can generally expect warm and humid weather, with occasional tropical showers, particularly toward the end of the month.

d) Currency and Business Hours

The official currency is the Indonesian Rupiah (IDR). Foreign currency can be exchanged at hotels, banks, and authorized money changers.

The average exchange rate for the US Dollar is approximately USD 1 = IDR 17,500 (estimated for October 2026).

Government offices and most businesses usually operate from 8.00am to 4.00pm (Monday – Friday). Banking hours are typically from 8.00am to 3.00pm. Tourist attractions generally open from 9.00am to 5.00pm, while convenience stores and restaurants in popular areas may operate until 10.00pm or later.

e) Credit Cards

Major credit cards are accepted in hotels, some restaurants and stores. But it is advisable to bring and/or exchange your currency to Indonesia Rupiah for purchases in small shops and restaurants.

f) Water

Bottled purified water and filtered water is often supplied by the hotel and restaurants, and are widely available in grocery stores. It is advisable not to drink directly from the faucet.

g) Local Time

Local time in Bali, Indonesia is Greenwich Mean Time (GMT)+8 hours.

h) Telephones

The international dialing code to call Indonesia is +62.

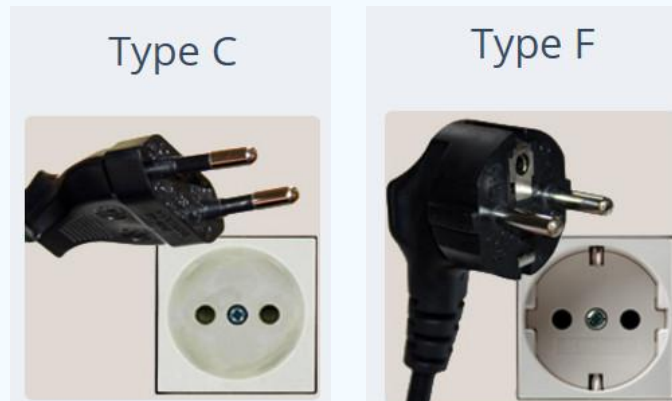

i) Medical Facilities

A provincial hospital and several clinics are available within the vicinity of Bali, including international hospitals and medical centers that provide 24-hour emergency services.

j) Electricity

The power supply in Indonesia is 220-240 volts a/c. The standard socket use in Indonesia is type c/f as shown in the picture below.

An adapter might be necessary depending on the electricity system in your respective countries.

k) Internet Facility

The hotel has wireless internet connectivity, accessible to all those with personal laptops and other mobile devices capable of wireless connectivity.

l) Tourism
